

FIRST STEPS FOR REOPENING MINES NOW UNDER WAY

Ohio National Guard Stationed at Strategic Points Producing Area.

MICHIGAN WILL ACT

Sliding Scale Based on Price in Coal Area. Pennsylvania.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 21.—Ohio National Guardsmen today were stationed at two strategic points in Ohio coal producing districts ready for any emergency which may arise in connection with the carrying out of President Harding's protection plan for operation of coal mines.

The troop movement and the mobilization of additional guard units was authorized by Governor Davis late yesterday.

Cadiz in Harrison County was designated by the governor as the strategic point in the Eastern Ohio field, allowing easy access to the producing areas of Belmont, Jefferson and Guernsey counties as well as Harrison County. Two hundred and thirty Guardsmen, to be augmented by thirty more today, who left Columbus aboard a special train last night, are to be stationed in this district.

One company of guardsmen is held in readiness at Lancaster for possible activity in the Southern Ohio field, embracing Perkin and Athens counties.

Reports from the Eastern Ohio field that several hundred union miners, many of them armed, were gathering at Adena and Hopedale, were denied by Sheriff O. K. Martin of Harrison County last midnight. President Lee Hall of the Ohio miners here early today said he had not heard of any gathering in the state.

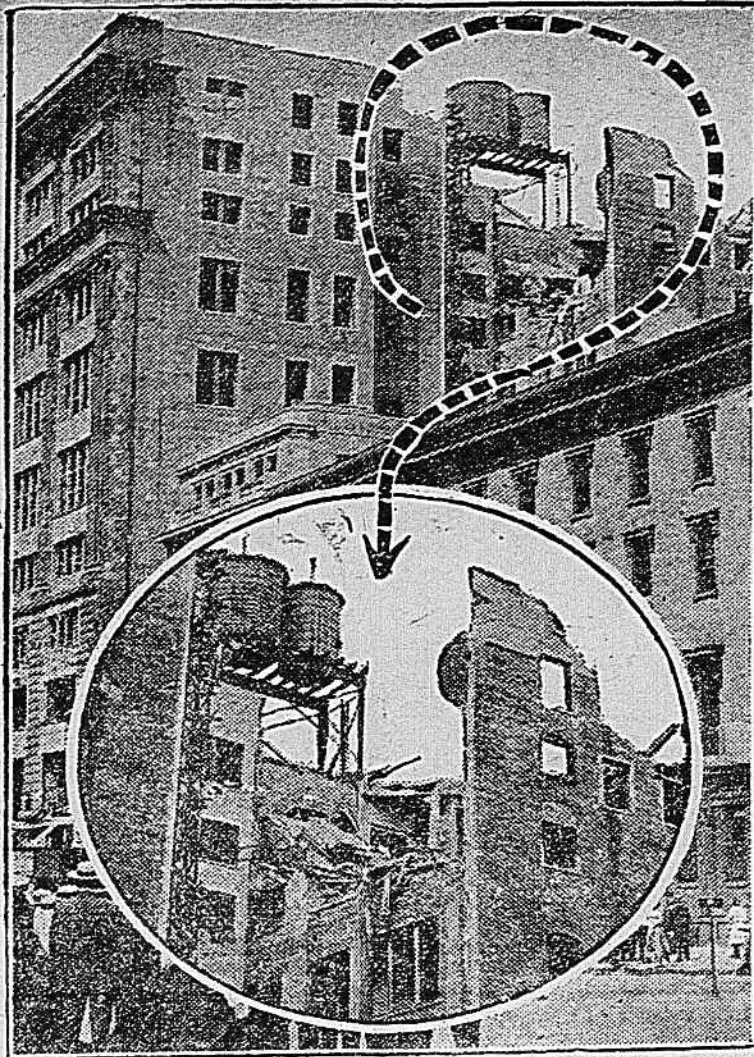

Sheriff Martin declared the miners resented the importation of troops and that disorders might break forth at any time.

Troops stationed at Cadiz consist of three infantry companies, one machine gun company and one motor transport company. The company at Lancaster is infantry.

The governor said additional units will be mobilized if they are needed.

TWO DIE IN BUILDING COLLAPSE

notice advising their employees, now on strike, that it will not bring in outside labor to operate the mines and inviting the workers to return to work on a sliding scale plan which will be put into effect, operative until April 1, next.

The corporation recommends an exhaustive investigation by a body of men selected from all walks of life.

"The miner should be protected against any unreasonable low return for his services which sometimes results from unfair and ruinous competition between operators," the notice continues. Relative to the proposed sliding scale, the notice says that by such a plan "the workers would share in any rise in the selling price of coal above a base to be agreed upon. We are ready to offer an agreement of this kind at once."

Aawit Harding's Approval
LANSING, Mich., July 21.—The taking over of the Michigan mines and their operation by the state government today awaited President Harding's approval of the program outlined yesterday by Governor Alex J. Groesbeck. The governor completed his plans last night and was prepared to take steps to reopen the mines immediately upon receipt of authorization from the President.

The mines would be protected by State Police or National Guard troops, the miners being sworn in as members of the State Police force.

LIGHT WINE AND BEER BATTLE CRY IN SENATE RACE

Governor Edwards of New Jersey Leading Fight of Wet Faction.

By EDWARD M. THIERRY
TRENTON, N. J., July 21.—Anyone who thinks prohibition is dead as a political issue would be disillusioned by a talk with Edward I. Edwards, governor of New Jersey.

Everybody knows Edwards is wet politically. He was elected governor on a wet platform and he's just as wet as ever in his present fight to go to the United States Senate to succeed Senator Frelinghuysen.

And, if he gets to the Senate, he promises to start something. Two things, in fact:

First, legislation legalizing beer and light wine.

Second, war on the Anti-Saloon League and kindred organizations.

"The saloon has passed forever from America," he says, "and I am opposed to its return. But I am in favor of modification of the Volstead act to permit manufacture and sale of beer and light wines under federal supervision, all manufacturing to be done under a pure food act.

"If that cannot be done legally, I am in favor of modification of the Eighteenth Amendment so that it can be done.

Believes Change Inevitable
Governor Edwards told NEA Service he believes prohibition modification is inevitable. Explaining his war on what he calls professional reformers, he says:

EDWARD I. EDWARDS

"Political lobbies and propaganda should be strictly regulated. The Anti-Saloon League maintains a powerful lobby and secretly financed propaganda. Such an organization should be compelled to be incorporated and file a public accounting of where its money comes from and how it is spent."

"I introduced such a bill into the New Jersey Legislature and it was promptly squelched. I'm going to do it again—aimed at the Anti-Saloon League. It is set to the United States Senate."

Controlling "pernicious lobbies," says Edwards is as important as controlling campaign expenditures. And one of his platform planks is "anti-Newberryism." Others are reductions of income taxes; control by the states, rather than the federal government, of funds spent for public health, child hygiene, and public roads.

Blames Unrest on Booze

The main issue, however, is prohibition. Governor Edwards calls it "the liveliest thing that ever happened."

"I'm against the hypocritical situation that has been created," he says, "it's a deceit. Basically, the unrest in this country is due to prohibition. It has not reduced crime—but has increased it."

"Of course, I want it understood that I yield to no one in respect for law and its enforcement. It is because I am convinced that public opinion makes it impossible to enforce many existing laws that I am determined to have them changed so as to make them possible of enforcement."

Governor Edwards' friends are making considerable political capital out of that fact that he is politically wet and personally dry, while they charge that Senator Frelinghuysen is personally wet although he voted dry.

"New Jersey," says Edwards, "is no wetter than other states. We're frank about it, though and the others are afraid to be."

NORTON, Va., July 21.—Representative C. ## MODEL COAL MINING TOWN BEING BUILT

BECKLEY, W. Va., July 21.—A model mining town is being raised at Glen Rogers. Engineers have been employed to lay out the town like a well appointed city and 600 or more miners' homes built of brick secured from the company's own brick plant, will be erected.

The Raleigh-Wyoming Coal Co. which owns the Glen Rogers mine plans two story, eight room structures for its men, and already forty of these have been completed. They are equipped with electric lights, hot and cold water, baths and other convenient appointments, and rent for $16.50 a month. The various dwellings are set apart by spacious lawns and gardens that give the section a distinct residential aspect. Paved streets, which have been laid out by engineers, in the most approved lines, are flanked by concrete sidewalks. Every improvement that leads to the convenience and beauty of the town is being made.

A club house, of the most modern type, equipped with a swimming pool, is planned, as well as moving picture house, and pool and billiard parlors. Public playgrounds for children are assured.

When the plant gets in full operation with the up-to-date machinery now being installed it will employ 1,000 men. A modern store building that will carry the most extensive line of goods carried in any city department store, is to be erected to cater to these employees. With all these modern improvements the company expects to obtain the best class of workmen in the state.

Carl Scholz vice president and general manager of the Raleigh-Wyoming Co., is in charge of the operations.
